Today's Market Reports

WALL STREET MARKET WINDS UP WEEK

[By Leased Wire to Evening Herald.] New York May 8.—The market closed weak today. Greater weakness was manifested in stocks today than at any other period since the upward movement was checked. The only support came from spasmodic short covering. Reactionary tendencies were more pronounced in the closing hour, when the principal shares touched the lowest.

Closing prices on the more important stocks were:

Amalgamated, 71.

Sugar, 161 1/2.

Atchison, 94 1/2.

Reading, 162 1/2.

Southern Pacific, 90 1/2.

Union Pacific, 154 1/2.

Steel, 5 1/2.

Steel preferred, 108 1/2.

Chicago Grains

Chicago, May 8.—Wheat developed firmness today in sympathy with the comparative strength shown at Liverpool despite the heavier crop reports from Washington. Trade here was light. The opening carried from $4.00 to 4.05 1/2 up, with prices later gradually hardening all around. The close was steady at a shade to 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 net decline.

Wet weather delay to planting brought about a slight lull in corn. Initial sales were unchanged to 4 1/2 higher and there was a little further gain before the market began to react.

The close was steady at a loss of 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 net.

Oats were governed by corn. Commodity houses generally turned sellers after the market had made a small upturn.

Showers of trade at the yards led to a heavy feeling in regard to provisions. First transactions were at 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 decline and there was a subsequent further setback.

Chicago, May 8.—Wheat—May,

93 1/2c, July, 85 1/2c.

Corn—May, 66 1/2c; July, 65 1/2c.

Oats—July, 27c; Sept., 35 1/2c.

Pork—July, $19.67; Sept., $19.77.

Lard—July, $10.05; Sept., $11.20.

Rib—July, $11.07; Sept., $11.20.

MAY CROP REPORT ON CONDITIONS IN NEW MEXICO

The crop report for New Mexico.

Worsted manufacturers have shown a little more interest in the raw material than they did a week ago, although no large sales have been made and none were possible considering the small stock of wool.

Worsted manufacturers have shown a strong interest in offerings of wool and dealers report no difficulty in disposing of their new wools, as fast as they arrive, at reasonable prices.

The American Woolen company announces further advances of 2 1/2 cents per yard on a number of styles of both men's and women's wear this week.

The New Clip Situation—Contracting has been continued in the west this week, although not to the extent that might have been the case had not many of the growers advanced their prices to a point beyond what dealers would pay. What wool has been taken was generally on the basis noted a week ago but in some instances prices are undoubtedly a little higher. In Wyoming for a medium clip, the extreme price of 25 cents is reported and 18 cents is said to have been paid on Thursday in Western Idaho but these prices are above the average and are for exceptionally good wools.

It is a practically impossibility to buy average clips in Montana under 28 cents, and dealers say they are unwilling to pay this rate at present, anyway.

In Oregon, the price is firmly maintained on a basis of 55 to 56 cents, landed east, with mill buyers still taking the bulk of the wool.

Practically nothing new in Nevada and the Triangle is reported and in Utah, shearing is steadily progressing, with shipments to the east constantly increasing.

A little more is being done in the lower wool sections but end rams have been more or less prevalent and shearing has its consequence been delayed. In Ohio, medium wools have been taken in a small way from the farmer at as high as 22 and 23 cents, which is also the prevailing price reported in Michigan for medium wools.

Small country lots continue to be purchased in the St. Louis market at 20 to 22 cents for the best offerings. In Tennessee small lots are just beginning to come in and are being taken at 29 to 31 cents, which is also being paid in Kentucky.

Prospects and Prices.

Any promise of cheaper wools in the near future has been negative in the decided fashion which most people expected by the opening results at London. What may happen when the new wools get into the Boston market in large quantities in mid-summer remains to be seen but few look for any stamp even then.

Ohio Fleeces—Sales of Ohio fleece wools in this market have been confined again to odds and ends for which no quotable price can be made. Present prices being made for medium wools in the country would indicate selling prices here at least 25 to 27 cents for the three principal sorts, and probably a cent more in the greasy.

Michigan—No sales of Michigan fleece wools of moment are reported from this market this week. Local Michigan dealers are understood to be offering some lots but no sales appear to have been consummated.

Missouri—No business of importance has yet been done in new Missouri wools, although a little quarter and three-eighths has been sold at the equivalent of 24 cents, handset Boston, which has also been the basis on which a little Illinois medium wool is reported offered.

Pulled Wool—Sales of pulled wools have been limited here this week, although some business is reported it Western secured. As at around a half-dollar for limited quantities. A little business in eastern As is also reported on the former basis of 27 to 28 cents.

Choice extra wool, quoted on the general run at 58 cents, has sold above sixty cents to reshape wool.

Territory—Sales of territory wools in the grease have been almost wholly for new wools, of which a moderate quantity has been moved, about 20 to 25 cents for the best wools, which are reported to be "making a clean cost of 12 to 15 cents." Several carloads of these wools are reported to have been sold this week.

Arizona—Wools have been sold in limited quantities again this week at 21 to 25 cents or clean costs of about 14 to 15 cents. Some further lots of Nevada are reported to have been made at 20 to 22 cents for the best wools, which are figured to mean a clean cost of 12 to 15 cents. Several carloads of these wools are reported to have been sold this week.

Arizona—Wools have been sold in limited quantities again this week at 21 to 25 cents or clean costs of about 14 to 15 cents. Some further lots of Nevada are reported to have been made at 20 to 22 cents for the best wools, which are figured to mean a clean cost of 12 to 15 cents. Several carloads of these wools are reported to have been sold this week.

Woolen manufacturers are en route for the market and some early Oregon wool is being shown also, for which 55 to 59 cents is understood to be the asking price for the fine wools. A few samples of early California fine wools are also in the market and some of them look choice. Generally speaking the new territories which have thus far arrived in the market have shown up very well.

Texans—No sales of Texas or California wools are reported this week and prices are only quoted on a nominal basis.

Southern—As intimated above, woolen mills have in some instances been looking for scoured wools more generally, although no large weight of wool has been moved. Some fine medium scoured territory has sold at 53 and 54 cents and Eastern As have moved on the basis of 53 to 55 cents.

Demand for the lower grades has not been extensive.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.
